I hope that this email finds you well. I am interested in attending the BFUTR Global Tech Summit 2022, from October 19-21, 2022, in Toronto, Canada in person.

BFUTR 2022 is the largest Black tech summit in North America and features some great speakers from all over who are shaping our future as technology innovators today.

This year, BFTUR is bringing together over 20,000 Black tech professionals for 3 days full of transformational content, global networking opportunities, and connecting with the Black tech communities, allies and executives in tech.

I am so excited to attend the summit in person because I'll be able to interact with other skilled professionals in our industry. The summit will feature panel discussions, networking opportunities and motivational talks from over 100 industry keynote speakers. This includes Trevor Noah, the Host of the Daily Show, and executives from over 60 partner companies like Google, TD, Cash App, Pixar, to name a few, which will have a positive impact on my work and my career.
